

Converge: Incomer and Homegrown Unitarian Universalists in Dialogue

Sunday May 17th, from 1:00 – 3:00 PM, in the Hunnewell Chapel

What was church like when you were a kid? Care to explore your own perspective and hear about others'? Here's your chance.

Join us for Converge: Incomer and Homegrown UUs in Dialogue. Converge will include stories from incomers (folks who were not raised UU) and homegrown (folks who were raised UU) panelists. There will also be plenty of time for you to ask questions and share your own insight and experience.

Some questions we will explore include:

- What was the most influential aspects of the faith you were raised in as a child and/or adult?
- What about Unitarian Universalism excites, frustrates, or perplexes you?
- What rituals and practices in Unitarian Universalism speak to you today?
- Any other pertinent questions that you might choose to ask

Join Liz Weber and Rev. Dan Kane for this opportunity to listen and learn from each other. All are welcome!

Unitarian Universalist Reading Group

Mondays, 7:00 PM, in the Stage Right Room

The UU Reading Group will be continuing their readings this month. New members are invited to join! The group is reading and sharing The End of Faith: Religion, Terror, and the Future of Reason by Sam Harris. The book draws on the insights of neuroscience, philosophy, and eastern mysticism to explore the clash between reason and religion. The book is available from amazon.com for $9.86.

To sign up, send an email to Richard Mattoli in care of Office@ASCBoston.org or visit the Membership Table during Coffee Hour.

The Wednesdays: Chekhov Short Stories

Wednesdays, May 13th and 27th, 6:00 – 8:00 PM, Frothingham Library

Professor Alan Helms writes, "Though Chekhov was celebrated as a major playwright for most of the last century, in the past 25 years or so his fame has rested increasingly on his short stories. He began writing them as a young medical student in Moscow to make money for his down-and-out family, and he soon found himself so popular that writing fiction became as absorbing an activity as his medical career. 'Medicine is my wife but literature is my mistress.' By the time he died at the early age of 44, he had produced over 200 short stories — a body of work that permanently altered the form and profoundly influenced all of the writers who followed him: Joyce, Woolf, Faulkner, you name 'em. His fiction is celebrated for its economy, penetrating psychology, and amazing empathy. He is, in short, the Shakespeare of short fiction. If I could take only two writers to a desert island, I would choose Shakespeare and Chekhov without a moment's hesitation."

We'll be using the Norton Critical Edition of Chekhov's short stories which you'll find for sale at Amazon & abebooks.com.

For the first meeting on May 13th the readings will be "Vanka" (read first and then the others in order for this week), "The Man in a Case", "Gooseberries", "About Love" and "The Lady with the Dog".

For the May 27th meeting, "Misery", "The Student" (Chekhov's favorite of his more than 200 stories), "Agatha", "The Darling" and "The Bishop".

Join Professor Alan and Rev. Kim for Chekhov; all are welcome, no shipwreck necessary!
