Let's all gather downstairs for coffee, soup, sandwiches, and community! If you're visiting Arlington Street Church, or would like information about Unitarian Universalism, please visit the Welcome Table.

The New Jim Crow ~ An Arlington Street Reading Group

Today ~ 12:30-2:30 PM, Hunnewell Chapel

Join a group to discuss Michelle Alexander's book, The New Jim Crow, the Unitarian Universalist Association's (UUA) Common Read of the year (meaning many congregations across the country will be reading this book together). The UU curriculum will provide the framework for the discussions. We will explore Alexander's call for building a spiritual movement to dismantle the new Jim Crow, and consider how we might begin the work. A quote from the author:

"What has changed since the collapse of Jim Crow has less to do with the basic structure of our society than the language we use to justify it. In the era of colorblindness, it is no longer justifiable to use race. So we don't. Rather than rely on race, we use our criminal justice system to label people of color "criminals," and then engage in all the practices we supposedly left behind."

- Michelle Alexander, The New Jim Crow, 2010

needs? You may be Highly Sensitive! All are welcome to participate in a workshop to discover what it means for you or a loved one to be a Highly Sensitive Person. Twenty percent of all people are “wired” this way with particular life challenges.

Tickets are available at the welcome table in the parish hall or at judahleblang.com. Arlington Street member tickets are $12; general public, $15.
